Print on Card Stock. Cut out around the outside edge of each circle.
Poke a hole through the black dot in the middle of each circle.
Put the little circle on top of the big one and punch a brad through both holes.
Spread the brad's "legs" out.
When you learn what key a song is in turn the Tonic (I) spoke toward that key.
Now you know the rest of the chords that are most likely to be used in the song and whether they're most likely to be major or minor when they show up.
